The Anglo-Portuguese Society celebrates its 80th anniversary this year, and we have a number of planned events to celebrate. We start with dinner on 25th September and we are delighted that the President of the Society, His Excellency Manuel Lobo Antunes, The Portuguese Ambassador, will be attending.

The evening is limited to 35 guests and will be held in the private dining room at Revolution Leadenhall, a converted bank vault.

Please join us on what promises to be a relaxed and fun evening in the City of London.
